OPTION #1

NEDO Virtual Summit “Creativity In These Times: Dance And Disability”
<https://www.ndeo.org/disabilitysummit>

The National Dance Education Organization opens registration for the 2026 Virtual Summit “Creativity in These Times: Dance And Disability.” Held on Saturday March 21st, 2026, the one day mini-conference aims to evaluate the field of dance and disability. During the 10 live sessions offered, a variety of topics will be discussed, presented, and moved through. The agenda covers: how to revolutionize the inclusivity of pedagogies and curriculum, how to challenge traditional dance aesthetics, what we can learn from the culture of disability advocacy and justice, how to broadening access for disabled/diverse audiences, and how to honor paths created thus far when layered with new ideas of how we can move forward, moving differently. Full Radius Dance Summer Intensive 2026

<https://fullradiusdance.org/summer-intensive-2026>

Full Radius Dance opens registration for their 2026 Summer Intensive. The Atlanta based integrative dance company offers a weeklong intensive program focusing on the rigorous methodology created by Full Radius Dance for dancers with and without disabilities. They invite new movers, professional dancers, educators and choreographers to enjoy moving with them starting August 3rd-8th, 2026. The intensive training offers opportunities for acquiring knowledge and understanding about how to physically integrate disabled dancers in classes and how to train diverse bodies in partnering technique and improvisation.
